Songs of Praise

All Saints' Church, Chilton had a Songs of Praise event on the 6th June. We heard from 4 people, 1 of whom was Bruce Keeble. Here is some of his story:

I was born in north-western China, near the Gobi desert, and went to school on the eastern coast then under Japanese control. In 1942 we were interned in a Japanese civilian prison camp. I spent the next three years in 3 of these camps. On release, aged almost 13, I weighed just 56 lbs, or 4 stone.

I then came to England and caught up on my schooling. I then worked for a while in Lloyds of London before beginning 5 years study in London and Switzerland. In 1960 I was ordained.

In 1992 I went to serve in a church in Glasgow which a Japanese couple regularly attended. During my ministry there a group of Japanese from Livingston (40 miles away) came to the church most Sundays. In 1995 the original Japanese couple were interviewed by Scotland on Sunday, describing how little most Japanese knew of their part in the war and apologizing for what Japan had done.

I believed this deserved a response so at one Sunday service I invited the couple to join me at the front of the church. I explained that it was almost 53 years, to the day, since their compatriots had taken me prisoner. Belonging to Christ, I believed in reconciliation and could hold no resentment.

The couple have since visited us in Chilton three or four times. Their recent visit in April 2015 was specifically because they wanted to talk about this act of reconciliation and grace and the Resurrection.

We also heard from Liz Morris. Jonathan introduced Liz as someone whom lots of people know, and who has lived in the Village for 37 years.

Liz is a busy person because she is involved in lots of things, having been Parish Clerk for 26 years, am also on PCC, past churchwarden, School governor and in the WI.

Liz manages all this by sitting quietly every now and then. Liz says she chose Be still for the presence of the Lord "Because it tells me that the Lord is always around where ever I am, not just in Church. I can sit quietly somewhere and know that he is with me."

All Saints' Church was decorated with flowers and art work. Thank you to all those who contributed, and visited.

Festival Time

Glastonbury, Isle of Wight, Cornbury, Reading, Blackheath. Many thousands come from far and wide to be there. Are you planning to join them?

With the arrival of the summer come summer festivals. To gather in large numbers for a big celebration has long been and remains today a powerful urge. Even when the weather refuses to co-operate, revellers are prepared to brave fields that have become quagmires to soak up (sometimes literally) all that is on offer at these huge events. Of course some of what happens is not good, but many of those involved are motivated by an impulse that runs deep in humans. The festival is an important part of life.

The word festival comes for the Latin for 'feast', and festivals and feasts are a key feature in most religions. Well-known in Christianity are the joyful feasts of Christmas and Easter, but there are also lesser known feasts, such as that of the Ascension, when Jesus ascended to heaven 40 days after his resurrection from the dead.

Another key feast is Pentecost, or Whit Sunday, recently celebrated, which marks the giving of the Holy Spirit to the Church 50 days after Easter. The Feast of Pentecost is the origin of the Harwell Feast held on Spring Bank Holiday in late May. And what a great event it was this year.

Feasts in the Bible are full of joyful voices, festive music, dancing, and abundant food. So not unlike festivals today. But unlike secular festivals, they are not simply parties, but celebrations together of God's goodness towards his people. They also do not simply celebrate the past or present. They are also a foretaste of things to come.

Jesus spoke of God's planned future for humanity – the kingdom of heaven – as a great feast to which people from around the world and throughout the epochs of history will come.

"I say to you that many will come from the east and the west, and will take their places at the feast with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven"

Matthew 8:11

At end of history God will resurrect all his people from every age to live with him forever. Every feast celebrated now is a small taste of what is to come. All are invited to the eternal feast. Will you be there?

JACK PERRY & THE GUINEA PIG CLUB

Jack Perry is celebrating his 90th birthday in July – happy birthday Jack! Jack & Mary have lived in Harwell since 1957 and have been very involved in village life since then.

Jack grew up in Dartmouth, Devon and loved being near the sea. He joined the Royal Air Force and became a flight engineer. On 31st August, 1944, Jack had a plane accident and was badly burnt on his face and hands. He was 19 years old at the time. He was in hospital for 4½ years after his accident, and had 31 operations. He received treatment from Sir Archibald McIndoe who was doing pioneering work with plastic surgery. He wanted to find a way to make new skin grow – which can now be done.

As part of his treatment, McIndoe recognised that the men needed to stick together, and help each other come to terms with their experiences and injuries. So they set up the Guinea Pig Club. It's name was in part because the surgical treatment that they received had never been done before. Initially the club was started as a drinking club which would disband after the war – but instead, it grew in strength and through the generosity of many people became financially sound. After the war, there were 649 members of the Guinea Pig Club around the world. Sir Archibald McIndoe was its first President. When he died in 1960, HRH Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh became the President. There are 29 members remaining in the club. Jack came out of hospital in 1949 and was married to Mary in 1950.

When they moved to Harwell, Jack worked at the Atomic Energy Research Establishment (AERE) as a draughtsman. He worked up to a senior draughtsman, and became responsible for all the out-stationed draughtsman in the organisation.

Jack became the Social Secretary of the Guinea Pig Club in 1970, and still fulfils this role. Members of the club used to meet for a Weekend Reunion every year in East Grinstead, and on other occasions. As part of this reunion, the men would visit people, many of whom were children, in the burns unit in the hospital – where they had been many years before.

He has arranged many visits and get-togethers since then. In 1975, Jack arranged for the Club to visit The White Hart at Harwell, Royal British Legion & AERE. This became an annual event, and at its strength, there were 2 coaches needed to transfer people between the venues.

It is said that East Grinstead (where the hospital was) was the town that didn't stare, and Harwell was the village that cared. Jack & Mary are so very grateful to the village for their support. When the Harwell visits ended in 2010, Jack received a very warm letter from the Royal British Legion who were sorry to see the event end.

In April, Jack and 2 other members of the Guinea Pig Club attended the Soldiering On Awards in London to receive the Lifetime Achievement Award for all surviving members of the Guinea Pig Club.
